Certificate of a Jury of Passengers.

The public of Memphis will not soon forget the impostor who, a few months ago, under the name and title of "Cological Westmoreiand," everlastingly went through the pockets and affections of our male and female, citizens, and whe left so many disconsolate dupes behind him on leaving the gay and festive dames of Memphis, who made so much of him.

He left us in the full blaze of glory of a first class swindler and confidence man. So cleverly were his "sells" conceived, so well were they executed, and so adroit-the ware blattering executed, and so adroit-the mouth of Red tiver, La., and said that he was suffering We learn that an invalid was brough river, La., and said that he was sufferin yery much with the rheumatism. He wa ly were they executed, and so adronly were his tracks covered up, that no one

" Most of our readers are aware that this "Most of our readers are aware that this town enjoyed, during the past week, the honor and felicity of a visit and a speech from the somewhat famous Mrs. Dr. Mary E. Walker. But it is not generally known what induced the visit. The cause of the lecture is better known—an insatiable thirst for notoriety, and a shrew's determination to be heard. The first accounts for the breeches and books, and the second for the lecture. But we propose to enlighten our readers as to the cause of Dr. Mary E. Walker's advent into our quite little burg. The facts are as follows: Sometime since, a number of persons, supposed to be either boys or young men, or perhaps both, resolved to have some or perhaps both, resolved to have some fun, and pitched upon the eccentric Womian's Rights champion as the victim.
